Queen's Platinum Jubilee

We have been focussing on The Queen and her Platinum Jubilee this week. We have learned about the Royal Family and looked at the different palaces she has. We have followed the Queen's hat around London and used Junk modelling to create some of the land marks. We have made silhouettes of the queen which you would have seen in our windows. We have made some Union Jacks and been writing sentences about The Queen. Did you know she has 5000 hats?!

Maths

We have been learning about odd and even numbers this week and related this to socks!

Half term

It is the half term holiday next week, which means your children have half a term left in Reception Class! Their reading has progressed brilliantly, please keep reading over the holidays as it will make such a difference to the continued progress.

Keep looking at numbers in the environment too – see what you can spot as you walk around Sprowston, are they odd or even numbers?
